Respondent.)	FILED: August 19, 2014

Appellant Victoria Kaskutas (“Kaskutas”) appeals from the judgment of the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis entered on August 28, 2013 in favor of Allstate Property & Casualty Insurance Company (“Allstate”). The trial court found that Illinois law applies to issues of coverage available to Kaskutas under her Allstate policy (“the Allstate policy”) and that consequently, Allstate has no further obligations to Kaskutas. Kaskutas challenges the trial court’s denial of her motion for partial summary judgment and its subsequent final judgment arguing that the trial court erroneously applied the choice-of-law provisions contained in the Allstate policy.

AFFIRMED.

Division III holds: Because a trial court’s denial of a motion for summary judgment, partial or otherwise, is not a final judgment subject to appellate review, and because Kaskutas failed to properly preserve for appellate review any allegations of error relating to the trial court’s final judgment, we affirm the judgment of the trial court.
